

STATESWEALTHY EVANSVILLE MAN MUST MARRY HER

London Girl Offers Startling
Testimony in Federal Court at Capital.

By Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 10.—Testimony of Miss O'Connor of London, trial of whose suit for $500,000 against Allen Gray, Evansville millionaire, is being held in federal court here, was refuted this afternoon by Mr. Gray, who took the stand in his own behalf. Gray asserted that he had never arranged for Miss O'Connor to come to America as she had testified, and declared that neither in London nor elsewhere had there been any talk of marriage.

Gray said he first met Miss O'Connor at the Charing Cross station in London in August, 1911, that he next saw her at his lodging house in London, where she came with her sister. The next time he saw the young woman, Gray said, she came to his room at night. He declared that she paid him two other similar visits during his stay in London.

Visits Room.
Gray said he did not see Miss O'Connor again until September, 1912, when during another visit to London, she came to his room at the Savoy hotel in the afternoon and spent an hour with him. He said that he asked her if she would like to spend the night with him, and she replied that she would, but he was unable to secure an apartment until the following night. Shortly afterward, he said, he returned to America and did not see the plaintiff again until January, 1914.

Gray said he went to London at this time and during his stay saw Miss O'Connor both at his hotel and at her residence. He said he bought her some clothes and promised to take her to Paris during the summer. In July, 1914, the defendant said, Miss O'Connor accompanied him to Paris, where they spent some time, and then returned to London a few days before he did. Gray said, and after his return he called on her several times. He denied that he even saw her the night before his return to the United States, when, according to Miss O'Connor's testimony, he had been with her until a late hour discussing plans for their marriage.

Receives Letter.
Gray declared that he knew nothing of Miss O'Connor's intention to come to America until he received a letter from her, written after she landed at New York during the summer, he said, and took her to lunch, where she said she wanted to go somewhere with him where they could spend the night. He said he took her to an apartment where they stayed that night. Miss O'Connor had testified that he had suggested going to the apartment and that she had consented, thinking he wished to be alone with her to discuss plans for their marriage.

Counsel for Gray introduced a letter from Miss O'Connor, after she had learned she was to become a mother, asking him to give her his name "to brace her up" and saying that if he would do so he could go his way and she hers. Another passage in the letter said that "the unfortunate affair is no more your fault than mine."

Soldier Testifies.
Prior to Gray's testimony the defense placed on the stand Samuel Lemon of Atlantic City, a Canadian soldier, who said he knew Miss O'Connor through the fact that her brother married his wife's sister. Lemon said his wife had refused to go to New York at Miss O'Connor's request and make a deposition in the latter's favor because she did not know that Miss O'Connor was engaged to Gray. He said that the plaintiff had intimated that if his wife would make the deposition requested and the suit was successful, she would receive at least two or three thousand dollars. He asserted that Miss O'Connor had threatened that if he or his wife testified against her she would shoot them and Allen Gray.

Lemon testified that he said to Miss O'Connor, after a conversation in which Gray's name was mentioned, "you couldn't love anybody as old as that, could you?" and Miss O'Connor replied: "I could love anybody that has as much money as Mr. Gray has."

Gray will continue his testimony tomorrow morning.

REFUSES TO ANSWER.

By Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10.—Questioned today regarding the federal government's stand in the case of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla in view of the charges of Julio Mitchell, prosecutor of the state of Puebla, that an incorrect copy of a letter Jenkins wrote his wife had been furnished by the American embassy to the Puebla authorities, Hilaria Medina, secretary of foreign affairs, said he could not answer because the Puebla authorities and not the federal were pressing the Jenkins case.

PROSECUTION RESTS.

Police Hold Youthful Bandits

CLYDE YANT (left) and JAMES MACDONALD (right).

The two self-confessed youthful highwaymen who have been terrorizing South Bend with a series of bold holdups were Tuesday morning identified by Edward Zimmerman, 1111 S. Seventh st., River Park, as the pair of bandits who held him up on the night of Jan. 22 and shot him in the side after he had knocked one of them down. MacDonald was identified as the man who did the shooting.

ALASKAN OFFICIAL OFFERS PULPWOOD

Newsprint Famine Could Be Relieved By Opening of Forest Reserves.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 10.—Alaska wants to throw open her millions of acres of national forests so that the billions of feet of paper relieve the pulp and newsprint famine, Gov. Thomas Riggs, Jr., of Alaska, declared here recently.

Gov. Riggs was here on his way from Juneau, capital of Alaska, to Washington, D. C., where he expected to help press pending legislation intended to remove restrictions and allow pulp manufacturers to go into the Tongass and Chugach reservations, the northern territory's two great reserves.

Mill Men Are Anxious.
Pulp and paper men are anxious to go to Alaska and establish mills as great as those operated in British Columbia, not far south of the Alaska boundary line, the governor asserted. Under the present laws the pulp makers cannot enter the reservations with any certainty that they will be allowed to stay.

Alaska's great forests stretch over approximately 34,000 square miles, an area nearly equal in size to the state of Indiana, according to estimates made by government officials. Several hundred million feet of good pulp wood, including western yellow pine, hemlock, Sitka spruce, white fir and lodgepole pine, are on the forest reserves alone.

Facilities Are Excellent.
The Tongass reserve, in southeastern Alaska, is especially adapted to the manufacture of pulp and paper, forestry officials have reported. There is plenty of water power, ocean harbors open the year round, timber skirting the water and weather similar to that of Puget Sound.

The governor intends to ask Washington to restore the reserves to the national domain or to open them to the pulp industry.

RUMANIANS SEND FIVE HUNGARIANS TO DEATH

By Associated Press.
VIENNA, Sunday, Feb. 8.—The Rumanian military court at Kaposvar, according to Budapest advices today sent to death five Hungarian colonels, Czery, Scouryach, Birpach, Saccha-Nagy and Csapo, and the burgomaster and district judge of the town of Grosswarden, charged with conspiring to raise an army to reconquer Hungarian territory from the Rumanians. A notary named Barley was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment.

The condemned men have appealed to the government at Bucharest, saying they were raising a force to protect the city against bolshevik rowdies, believing the Rumanians were about to evacuate.

"I doubt if they are able to judge earthly problems as well as we do. It is a mistake to regard them as oracles. We are responsible for our own acts and must use our own judgment." This was Sir Oliver Lodge's reply to a question whether the advice of "spirits" was to be relied on.

FINISH EVIDENCE AT ALBANY TRIAL

Prosecution Draws Acknowledgment that Assemblymen Were Disloyal.

By Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Counsel for the assembly judiciary committee late today completed presentation of evidence against the five suspended socialist assemblymen being tried by the committee on charges of disloyalty.

Seymour Steadman, however, claimed that technically the prosecution could not "rest" until his side had read into the record additional excerpts from documents introduced by committee counsel. This reading, which then was begun, had not been completed when adjournment was taken.

Pledge Support.
In closing the case, the prosecution, which had charged the socialist party is conspiring to bring about a revolution in this country, drew from opposing forces acknowledgment that, by a referendum just completed, the party membership had ratified a report submitted at the Chicago convention last year pledging support to the third (Moscow) international.

The report in which support is pledged the third international, is a minority report on international questions. The prosecution claims that it is more drastic than the majority report on the same subject. The defense conceded that the locals to which the defendants belonged had voted for the minority report.

The report, which declares the second international dead, cites that the "majority parties of Russia, Italy, Switzerland, Norway, Bulgaria, Serbia and Greece and growing minorities in every land, are uniting on the basis of the preliminary convocation at Moscow of the third international" and adds that as in the past, so in this extreme crisis, "we must take our stand with them."

LEGION MEN REQUEST ADDED COMPENSATION FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

By Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 10.—The national executive committee of the American Legion today adopted a resolution declaring it the belief of the organization that legislation looking toward adjusted compensation for ex-service men and women was a paramount obligation of the government, with the exception of any legislation still uncompleted, looking to the rights of widows and orphans of deceased ex-service men and women and disabled soldiers. The resolution, a copy of which was sent to a committee on soldier beneficial legislation which will meet in Washington Feb. 18, recommended that compensation for discharged soldiers and service women be adjusted to provide that each such person receive a $50 bond for each month of service.

It also was decided today to change the American Legion Weekly, beginning with the issue of next week, to a form "consistent with the financial resources of the legion." No details as to the form the publication will take were announced, but the resolution provides for a new board of directors for the weekly which will be composed of newspaper, magazine and advertising experts.

Osborn on Stand.
Chase S. Osborn, former governor of Michigan, took the stand this afternoon.

Osborn declared "he thought he was a candidate for senator" in 1918, in reply to a question by Frank C. Bailey, prosecutor.

"Do you know Henry Ford?" asked Bailey.

"I have met Mr. Ford," declared Osborn.

"Did you have a conversation with Tony Daniels or Mark McKee, partner of the defendant Paul H. King?" Martin W. Littleton objected to this question—Daniels declared the question was pertinent and offered to explain the mystery of his examination to the court.

Judge Sessions excused the court.

"Governor Osborn will tell how Daniels told him McKee had said the senatorship would be delivered for $150,000. Osborn will tell how he went to see McKee and was told 'It is too late.'"

PREDICTS INDUSTRIAL CRASH.

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Unless the upward-trend in prices is stopped within the next six months there will be a crash early next year, W. H. Phipps, Milwaukee, delegate to the National Builders Supply association, said here Tuesday.

"This crash will be of a short duration—probably six months or a year," Phipps said. "This condition will, then change to one of prosperity which we may expect for several years."

"To prevent this depression, we must speed up production without profiteering. By that I mean everyone must put in an honest day's work, manufacturers, laborers, and farmers. No one should expect anything for nothing."

RETURNS TO MANILA.

Gregorio Velasco, of the Philippine Islands, who has been attending Notre Dame university for the past four years, has decided to return to his home in Manila. Coming here with only the slightest knowledge of the English language, he is now an excellent linguist. "Fritz," as he is known, has made scores of friends in South Bend during his stay here, and will be the guest of honor at a farewell party Thursday given by friends from both Notre Dame and South Bend.

Rev. Campbell P. Morgan delivered an eloquent lecture Tuesday night at the Rescue Mission, taking as his subject the parable of Cain and Abel. The Kiwanis club membership was represented at the services, and the hall was crowded.

Leaders From Local Lodges

V. S. Smith was installed as commander of St. Joseph Valley tent 1108, Knights of the Macabees, at the regular meeting of the tent held Tuesday evening at W. O. W. hall. C. C. Barnes as installing officer and Frank Schulte, master-at-arms, installed the following accompanying officers: Frank Schulte, master-at-arms; J. Coleman, record keeper; O. D. Stewart, sergeant; H. Baird, chaplain; R. B. Wright, master-at-arms; W. H. Burkett, first guard; J. Heckman, second guard; E. B. Wright, sentinel; Frank Schulte, picket.

Business of the regular meeting followed the installation.

A class of 15 candidates was initiated at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Protected Home Circle, held at Slick's hall. With this initiation and other large classes to follow it is expected that the local lodge will bring the membership up to the 500 mark by June. Plans for making a staff picture were also made at the Tuesday meeting.

The degree staff of the lodge will go to Laporte, March 2, where they will officiate at the initiation of a class of 40 candidates from northern Indiana cities.

A membership drive in which a team composed of past sachems of Montauk tribe, Red Men, will compete with two teams from the membership of the lodge was launched at the meeting of the tribe held on Tuesday evening at Red Men's hall.

The first meeting of the Northern Indiana Interurban association to be held in South Bend will be held March 6 at Beyer hall. The tribes of seven Indiana and Michigan cities will be represented and it is expected that more than 250 visiting Red Men will gather here for the day. The team of the Mishawaka tribe will officiate at the initiation which will feature the meeting.

Members of the Beech Tree court 211, Tribe of Ben Hur, entertained with a luncheon following the regular meeting of the court held at Beyer hall Tuesday evening.

some parts of Mr. Daniels' testimony before the committee as "very surprising" and went into details of some cases of awards to sustain his own views.

Taking up the statements of Rep. Byrnes to the house, Admiral Sims said the representative either misunderstood him or confused his remarks with those of others to whom they had talked in France. He had sought, he said, to disabuse his visitors' minds of the idea that American forces were "winning the war" because that was "not true," and was "hurting us with the allies."

CALIFORNIA GETS NEW NAVAL BASE

Improvements and Developments Will Cost Millions of Dollars.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 10.—Creation of a naval base at San Diego, Cal., as ordered by the navy department, has started a program of development of naval facilities here which, when finished, will have entailed an expense of approximately $17,000,000 according to local estimates.

The first step will be for the navy department to take over the present shipyard of United States shipbuilding board. Negotiations for the transfer already are under way. The yards will be turned into a navy repair plant capable of handling all but the largest dreadnaughts.

Improvements Planned.
Other improvements will be the extension of the North Island flying field, largely increased hospital facilities, construction of a marine brigade post, extensive improvements to the channels in San Diego harbor, and erection of a navy supply station.

With the issuance of the order classing San Diego as a base Rear Admiral Walker took command. Previous to that time no admiral had been stationed here.

San Diego makes the third naval base on the Pacific coast, the others being Mare Island, in San Francisco bay, and Bremerton, Wash.

VICK'S VAPORUB

Revised Feb. 1, 1919, by South Bend Chamber of Commerce.

Facts Worth Knowing About South Bend

SOUTH BEND is located eighty-six miles east of Chicago at the point where the St. Joseph river, America's most picturesque stream, makes its "south bend" and turns northward to the great lakes.

AREA: (City proper), 15.74 square miles; altitude, 722 feet.

ASSESSED VALUATION: Real estate, improvements, personal property, $35,110,860.

CITY DEBT: Bonded debt $498,000

Sinking fund $1,113

Net debt $447,887

CITY PROPERTY AND FIXED ASSETS: $3,048,401.

CLUBS: Chamber of Commerce with exclusive club house and equipment, Indiana Club, Knife and Fork Club, South Bend Woman's Club, Progress Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Ad-Sell League, University Club, and Country Club with a most complete house and golf course. Also an unusual number of other clubs and organizations which provide for intellectual needs and social life.

DEATH RATE: .88 per 1,000.

BIRTH RATE: 18.64 per 1,000.

EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS: Eighteen grade public schools, valued at $1,250,000. A new $450,000 high school. A vocational school. Twelve parochial schools. School enumeration 6 to 21 years, 16,657 (1915). School attendance (approximately), 12,000. Free public night schools are conducted in four of the ward buildings and in the High School with an attendance of about one thousand. Night school work is also provided by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The University of Notre Dame is located just north of the city. St. Mary's Academy, another large Catholic institution, provides for the academic and collegiate training of girls. In addition to these are the following special and technical schools: Three business colleges, two schools of music.

FACILITIES FOR NEW INDUSTRIES: An important inducement to new industries that may not at once require an individual plant is furnished by a Manufacturers' Plant and Power Co. Space and power to suit can be had in the buildings of this company at low rental. Rental includes water, heat, watchman and elevator service. Many excellent sites and a few buildings procurable. Write South Bend Chamber of Commerce for list and photos.

FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS: Ten banks and trust companies with total resources of $22,680,384.02

LABOR: South Bend is what is claimed in labor circles as an "open town." There is an abundance of both skilled and unskilled labor and plenty more to draw upon in the smaller adjacent towns. Wage scales furnished on request. A large proportion of working-men own their homes.

POPULATION: The following comparative figures are most significant, showing that South Bend has never had a boom, but a steady, normal, though rapid growth. Such a growth is positive evidence of the natural advantages of the city as an industrial and commercial center.

Population, U. S. census: 1880, 12,280; 1890, 21,510; 1900, 35,999; 1910, 53,684; (Local Census), 1912, 69,800, and 1916, 67,030.

POWER: The St. Joseph river is now developing approximately 25,000 hydro-electric horsepower from four dams in this vicinity, most of this power being available for South Bend. The obvious advantages of electric power, and the low price at which it is furnished here, are practical inducements no manufacturer can overlook.

Cost of power and light: Electric, .06 to .0061 per k. w. hr. Average cost 15 to 20 h. p., $24.00 per h. p. per year.

Gas, 65 cents to 90 cents per M cubic feet net.

PUBLIC SAFETY: Fire Department—Ten stations, fifty-four men; sixteen pieces of apparatus; auto equipment included. The efficiency of the fire department is shown by the following figures:

Value of buildings and contents at risk in the last 12 years $11,608,952

Total fire loss last 15 years $58,167

Average loss per year for 18 years $6,243

POLICE DEPARTMENT: Sixty-six men and two police women. Police ambulance, auto patrol and motorcycle squad.

RELIGIOUS AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS: Sixty-six churches, including all leading denominations; Y. M. C. A. costing with equipment about $300,000.00, and a $100,000.00 boys' branch. A Y. W. C. A. costing $75,000.00. Museums—one in the city and one at Notre Dame. Two hospitals and a county infirmary and an orphan's home.

STREETS: Total length of streets, alleys and avenues in the city limits, 217.3 miles. Total length of streets, alleys and avenues paved, 80.5 miles. Complete boulevard system being developed.

STREET LIGHTS: Total public lights, 1,294, including 450 electric magnetic arc and other incandescents and magnetic. Cost $50,000 per year. Many streets are illuminated with the improved boulevard cluster lights.

STREET RAILWAYS: (Electric), in city limits, total length, 22.28 miles.

TELEPHONES: Central Union, manual exchange, 6,850 stations; average calls per day, 44,000. Long distance calls per day, 650. Direct connection with New York, Chicago, San Francisco and all intermediate points.

Automatic exchange, 4,750 stations, connected with six exchanges. Average calls per day, 42,000.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES: South Bend has eight steam and three electric roads. The steam roads are the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern (New York Central), the Grand Trunk, the Michigan Central (two divisions), the Vandalla (Pennsylvania system), the Chicago, Indiana & Southern, and the New Jersey, Indiana & Illinois. An eighth road, the Lake Erie & Western, supplies through passenger service between South Bend and Indianapolis, entering the city over the tracks of the New York Central. Two belt roads encircle the city and switching charges are absorbed by the railroads. The electric lines are the Chicago, South Bend & Northern Indiana, the Chicago, Lake Shore & South Bend, and the Southern Michigan. These lines provide service between this city, Chicago and Indianapolis, and important points on the shore of Lake Michigan.
